

September 2010 Newsletter

If you are receiving this message, it means that I have done work for you in the past, I am doing work for you now, or you have expressed interest regarding me doing work for you in the future. If you would prefer to not receive further emails, please let me know about it.

Being that it is September, I will be sending out invoices to any of you for whom I have done work in August, or for those who have not yet paid for previous months.

News & Info

Difficult Labor – Happy Labor Day to all of us “working stiffs” who still have our jobs. This is a sad time for our nation with unemployment, foreclosures, etc. I would hope our representatives in Congress can put aside their partisan politics and finally do something to help those of us not so fortunate.

Health Watch – We are both in “recuperating mode”. I am going through physical therapy. My right wrist is still pretty sore but it is getting better. Regarding work, it makes it a little more difficult doing things requiring multiple keystrokes, like Ctrl C. I used to be able to do those things with my right hand and stretching out my fingers. It now takes two hands. It is only a temporary situation (I sincerely hope...) but it does slow me down a little. I don't intend to make this newsletter a long one. I usually try and discuss something that I worked on over the last month and, since I didn't get a lot done, there was not a lot to discuss.

It is going to take a little longer for Leila. She is healing, but there are some scars that are going to take a while to heal. And as to the reconstruction, it is done a little at a time. She kinda has little balloons implanted for now and she will have to periodically go to the plastic surgeon that will “pump her up” until she is satisfied.

Thanks to all of you for your kind wishes.

Left Rights – Some people have been saying to me that I am lucky that I am left-handed and the injury occurred to my right, non-dominant hand. Unfortunately we live in a right-handed world and there are some things you just can't easily get around doing left-handed. I actually had to go out and buy a left-handed can opener because I just can't open a can right now with my right hand. I also have to stretch over with my left hand to start my car, release the emergency brake, etc. There are other things and this is not the first time I have climbed up on the soap box on this issue, but it has been driven home to me once more while I am trying to recuperate.
